"It remains for Fort Worth to show itself able to use these hours for betterment. Directors of the Y. M. C. A. feel that the organization offers an unexcelled opportunity for profitable use of leisure hours. The Y. M. C. ## YMCA LEADER FLAYS HITLER

Conditions in four foreign countries out of the 10 he has visited were discussed by Francis S. Harmon, general secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. at a luncheon given in his honor at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday. Harmon spent the day in Fort Worth conferring with directors and friends.

"The situation in Germany today is due to the Treaty of Versailles," Harmon said. "A crop of German youths who were too young to fight in the World War had expected to be forced by the treaty into virtual slavery. An interesting figure in the person of Adolph Hitler appeared on the scene and they rallied about him, for he promised Germany a way out."

The five evils of Hitlerism, Harmon pointed out, were nationalism, militarism, removal of women from the factory to the home, un-Christian treatment of Jews and lack of free speech and free press.

"One rabbi told me that one-third of the funerals he preached were of suicides," the Y. M. C. A. official told the group.

The word best typifying Russia is "lines," the guest said. He mentioned lines of people, lines of hay wagons waiting to give 25 per cent of their goods to the party, lines of people waiting at government stores to purchase supplies.

"But the longest line of all is the line in front of Lenin's tomb. Every two hours 2,000 people pass there to see this great man. The line has been there since 1926."

The speaker said that people in Russia who are not members of the Communist party are permitted to attend church, but that religion is considered as superstition and is not encouraged.

He said the only place one can study for the Russian priesthood is in a Y. M. C. A. camp at Paris.

Harmon said that mothers received 56 days' pay before a child was born and 56 days' pay afterwards. All hospital bills are paid by the state.

He spoke briefly on Czecho-Slovakia and Poland, praising conditions in these countries.

Harmon arrived in this country from Europe about two weeks ago. He will sail for the Orient about Jan. 1. Meanwhile, he is making a speaking tour.

Pups of Plebian Parentage Outpoint Pedigreed Poodles

Pedigrees bowed to pooches at a dog show yesterday in the corner lot at Taylor and Fifth Streets.

Pups with papers but no personality walked off disappointed, while dogs of dubious parentage flaunted ribbons. The event was sponsored by the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A.

For instance there was Nertz, who will be two years old on Washington's birthday. Nertz walked off with a couple of third places, though even his owner, Jim Hodgson, stammered over the question of parentage and finally decided upon a collie-German police mixture. Nertz lives at 4700 Preston Street.

On the other hand, Mickey's mother won two first prizes and his father one at big dog shows. Yet the pedigreed Boston Bull belonging to Jack Dearmore failed to receive any recognition. And Flop, a cocker spaniel, whose long ears, six-inch tail and big feet were pronounced "cute," did not fit any one of the three classes. His owner is Bob Selig.

A blue ribbon was pinned on Puff, age one month and three weeks and every inch a French poodle, for best appearance. Puff's owner is Don Crow, 1316 Hurley Avenue.

A 75-pound English pit bulldog was awarded first place in the best trained class. Don dominated the show, for every time he growled perceptible shivers played tricks on the spines of docile competitors. Billy Martin, 415 Essex Avenue, has taught Don to dive into a bucket of water and climb a wire fence to retrieve objects.

First prize as best "regular dawg" went to Sandy, of 1436 Eighth Avenue. His owner is Billy Evans.

It was a tough job, but Judges Fritz Cruseman, lifetime judge of shepherd dogs for the American Kennel Club; Dr. R. C. Griffith and I. B. White, presented prizes to the following:

Don, first; Sport, belonging to Clyde Pemberton, second, and Nertz, third, in best trained class; Sandy, first; Honey Boy, owned by Charles Renaud, second, and Nertz, third, in "regular dawg" class; Puff, first; Dumps, belonging to Sam Billingsley, second, and Cop, owned by Irad Cochran, third, in best appearance class.

Others entered were Sparky, Bill Bachman; Blacky, Jack Taliaferro; Mickey, Dan Mahoney; Ponya, Harry Smith, and Snub-toy, Lee Van Vlack.

"They mean business," Harmon said, "although some of their ideals are noble and some ignoble."

Fathers, Sons Hold Dinner at Y M C A

Fathers and sons who are members of the boys' division observed last night the annual Father and Son Night at the Y. M. C. A. with a program of short talks and athletic contests. About 45 fathers and 60 sons attended the meeting, which was directed by Jack Roe, boys' division secretary.

Work of the Y. M. C. A. was the subject of a talk by Richard Poll, president of the Stripling Hi-Y Club, while Pop Boone spoke on "Fathers and Sons of the Day." A singsong, led by Paul Wassenich, with Leonard Sisk at the piano, preceded the talks.

The athletic program included fun contests between fathers and sons in pie-eating, rope-skipping and camel-walking. Two boxing matches and one wrestling match, with Milton Coffey, H. J. Francis, Jess Lawrence, Willis Simpson, Jack Sullivan and Vincent Davis participating, were followed by a swim to complete the program.

These 3 Youths Captain Football Teams, Head Senior Classes and Make Honor Roll

And They're All Likely To Win Coveted
Scholarship

By DELBERT WILLIS

Senior class president, football captain, honor student, likely scholarship winner, tall and handsome—if that isn't the all-American boy, then find one!

Fort Worth not only claims one like this, but three.

They are Bill Brandon, 16, of Central High; George Malmberg, 17, of North Side, and Carl Laneri, 17, of Polytechnic.

But if anything makes these modest young gentlemen swell out their chests a bit, it's the grid-iron leadership. Of course, they'll point with pride to the class presidency, but if they had their choice of only one, it would be football.

Leading a class of high school students and a band of athletes is similar in many respects, the triumvirate of popularity believe.

Speechmaking, Pro and Con

But when the need of real leadership arises, that's where the difference is felt. All agree that more of it is needed in student body affairs.

As for speechmaking, George Malmberg, who is "Swede" to his friends, likes football. He'd rather chill ball carriers all day than make a 15-minute address. Don't conclude by that the blond North Side youth can't make a speech. When necessity demands, he stands up among the best, but only then.

Young Malmberg, if you recall, was the 15-year-old chap who, with his broken leg in a cast, dived into the swollen current below the spillway at Lake Worth in an effort to save the life of a friend in June, 1931. He tore the shirt off the struggling youth, youth, Merle Morrison, 16, but was unable to save him.

Carl Laneri, Poly's popular leader, is just the opposite of George. His most trying moment comes at the whistle for the opening kick-off of a game. This speechmaking—that's right down his alley.

Studies Practically Perfect

Young Brandon, the dark complexioned Central leader, combined rare ability, brawn, and years of football experience with well-directed leadership to steer the Panthers to the bi-district title. The team was rated by some sport writers as one of the best in the state and Bill was placed on the all-state team. He is graduating at the early age of 16 because of two double promotions in grammar school.

Football, class activities, and adoring girls leave the three captains plenty of time for study. Carl leads in scholastic grades with a 99 average. George has a 98 and Bill a 97. The first two are almost certain of scholarships.

The boys may continue their parallel high school careers together in college, if they decide to enter T. C. U. Carl and George have about made up their minds, but Bill is considering many other schools. Carl wants to be a lawyer, George a physical instructor, and Bill a civil engineer.

George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Malmberg, 2709 West 28th Street, Bill's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brandon, 2715 Hemphill Street, and Carl's are Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Laneri, of 3755 West Lancaster Avenue.
