

COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

Rain, cool air, football... it must be fall! And it must mean that the 10th Annual Empowering Seniors event is quickly approaching.

Join us in celebrating you; area seniors, boomers, and caregivers on Friday, October 5th from 9 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. at First Euless Campus West. You can look forward to professional health screenings, informative workshops, the "Ask the Doctor" panel, over 150 exhibitors, FREE food, entertainment, BINGO, door prizes, win a $500 VISA gift card, and exciting 10th-anniversary surprises! This FREE event will be a hit with special guest Dallas Cowboys Legend, Super Bowl Champion and Pro Football Hall of Famer, Bob Lilly, AKA "Mr. Cowboy!" Be sure to register to attend today by visiting www.empoweringseniors.com or by calling 817-581-3600.

The new budget year for Tarrant County will begin on October 1st. I am excited that the Tarrant County Commissioners Court was able to adopt a county general budget tax rate of $0.234 which is lower than last year's rate of $0.244. The Tarrant County Hospital District (JPS) adopted tax rate is $0.224429 which is the same tax rate as the previous year. Tarrant County's combined tax rate is the lowest in the state of the five major urban counties. Check out more from Commissioners Court by visiting www.tarrantcounty.com.

Election season is underway for the November 6th General Election. If you are not a registered voter, the last day to register for the upcoming election is Tuesday, October 9th. Be sure to get to your polling place to cast your ballot and exercise your right for your local community, state, and nation's future. Sample ballots will be online via Tarrant County Elections closer to the election. For more information, please visit www.tarrantcounty.com.

JPS Health Network, the system that makes up our county hospital district, is holding long-range planning public meetings to provide information and receive feedback on the future of services provided and the proposed $800 million bond package that will be on the November 6th election ballot. With anticipated changes in population demographics/growth and technology, JPS would like to know the best way to provide healthcare services to our community. Watch for upcoming public information feedback meetings currently being scheduled. The public is welcome and encouraged to attend.

Please join us for a ribbon-cutting event for the long-awaited opening of the JPS Medical Home Northeast Tarrant on Thursday, October 11 from 4:30 p.m. - 6 p.m. The 35,000 square-foot health center will provide primary care, women's health, behavioral health, dental, optometry, laboratory and radiology, and pharmacy services. Find out more information about the event on page 5.

We have included in this newsletter information about the City of Colleyville Mayor Richard Newton, the JPS Hospital Bond Initiative, the new development at DFW International Airport, the nonprofit Project 4031, transportation updates, senior updates and much more!

Coffee with the Commissioner will be this Friday, September 14th at 7:30 a.m. in my office at the Northeast Courthouse. Join us for coffee and good conversation!

Question of the Month

Question: Which presidents are celebrated on Mount Rushmore?

(Answer on page 6)

The Quote of the Month - "Texas could get along without the United States, but the United States cannot, except at great hazard, exist without Texas"

— Sam Houston

Mayor
Richard Newton

Mayor Richard Newton serves the citizens of Colleyville the only way he knows how by putting their best interests first and serving with honesty and transparency. His dedication to the City of Colleyville and its residents is visible even to the most casual observers. There is no doubt that serving as mayor fills him with great pride and joy.

His love of the city is obvious from the moment you meet him. From his affable smile to the immediate sense of pride in the city and all the amenities it offers, Mayor Newton's enthusiasm is contagious. Often referring to Colleyville as "the star of the metroplex" Newton has lived in Colleyville since 1987 and has seen it change and grow while maintaining its small-town feel. "Colleyville is a unique and wonderful place to live," he tells everyone. "Most people, including myself, are attracted to Colleyville because of its open and rural feel."

Newton has served four terms as a council member and is currently on his fourth term as mayor. He has strived to create an environment of service, to demonstrate to the citizens of Colleyville that City Hall is there for them and their needs, and to create lasting bonds of trust between the community and their government.

His desire to serve others extends past his role as mayor. Newton is a current member of the Colleyville Lions Club and the Colleyville Chamber of Commerce and serves on the Colleyville Economic Development Board and the Colleyville Tax Increment Financing District Board and served on the Colleyville Charter Commission as well as many other professional organizations and nonprofit boards. He has been a tenured professor at Texas A&M University and has held various executive positions in well-known corporations as well as small startups.

Newton has been married to his sweetheart, Linda, for 21 years. They met while she was a Colleyville councilmember. Linda and Richard have a blended family with three children; Nathan Newton and wife Mallory Legg Newton, Natalee (Newton) Haggan and husband Paul Haggan, and Doug Ahlers (stepson) and wife Sabrina Ahlers. They are blessed with five grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren and all live in the metroplex.

On a more personal note -

What do you do for fun? Play golf, do woodworking in my shop, ride motorcycles off-road, and fly airplanes.

Favorite Movie? Jason Bourne movies and James Bond movies.

Favorite Restaurant? Any restaurant in Colleyville – they are all great!

Favorite vacation spot? Vacation what's that? OK - Paris with my wife; Kauai, Hawaii; mountain wilderness in Colorado and the mountains in Tennessee.

Last book read? fiction – "The Silent Corner" by Dean Koontz; nonfiction – "Hire Smart From the Start" by Dave Carvajal.

People would be surprised to know ...
I was one of the fortunate few who had dinner with the Queen of England during her one and only visit to Dallas; I flew in the Space Shuttle simulator with Fred Haise and Gordon Fullerton while training for the initial Space Shuttle glide drops off the Boeing 747.

JPS HOSPITAL BOND INITIATIVE

On Tuesday, August 14, Tarrant County Commissioners unanimously approved an order to call an election to authorize the issuance of $800 million in bonds to acquire, construct, improve, equip or enlarge facilities of the Tarrant County Hospital District, operating as the JPS Health Network.

The no tax rate increase bond will appear on the November 6th ballot.

Proposed improvements include a new mental and behavioral health hospital, a new main hospital tower, needed upgrades to the JPS Level One Trauma center (which is the only Level One Trauma center in Tarrant County), a new cancer center, four new regional health centers, and a new ambulatory surgical center. Also planned are needed upgrades in the JPS Hospital system for training our local nurses, doctors and healthcare providers.

New countywide patient care clinics which interact with the health care needs of our families and local school districts are proposed and will model the new JPS Northeast Medical Home scheduled to open on October 11th in Euless.

The Commissioners Court is required by law to call any bond election authorizing this issuance of tax-supported bonds by the Hospital District. It is currently anticipated that the bonds authorized by the election will be issued in several series over the next several years.

"This is a process more than two years in the making, and since the bond's first inception, costs have only gone up. As a result, now is a time to call the bond," says Commissioner Gary Fickes.

The Tarrant County Hospital District serves all residents of Tarrant County.

Check Out The New Digs at DFW International Airport!

If you've driven around DFW Airport, you've probably noticed there's no shortage of digging going on.

"There is active construction on five of DFW's ten planned development districts right now, so we are really moving forward," says John Terrell, vice president of Commercial Development. "What most people see from Airport Freeway is Passport Park, but we have many more construction sites active at the moment."

One active site is Southgate Plaza, already home to DFW Airport Headquarters and a Hyatt Place Hotel. Located in Euless at International Parkway and Rental Car Drive, the Southgate Plaza development also includes Code3

Emergency and a Starbucks café. Later this year, a new U.S. Post Office will open, followed by a new Hyatt House Hotel in 2020.

Around the Airport, you can find other sites under construction. The International Logistics Center, along South Airfield Drive west of International Parkway, is a three-building complex designed to meet the ever-growing demand for warehouse and logistics space largely driven by e-commerce. The 40-acre business park includes three buildings totaling more than 640,000 square feet of space.

"That's an ideal project for Airport development," says Terrell. "It fits in perfectly with the Land Use Plan developed over the past decade."

Across Airfield Drive, work is underway on what will be the DFW Southwest Campus, including the new Department of Public Safety headquarters.

The aforementioned Passport Park, one of the largest development districts planned at DFW, is emerging on the far south end of the Airport, and will eventually cover 600 acres of land including a large 300-acre warehouse district.

All these projects serve the DFW Airport mission of creating economic impact for the Dallas Fort Worth region while driving new revenue streams that allow DFW Airport to become even more cost competitive. And we all dig that.

Question of the Month

Question: Which presidents are celebrated on Mount Rushmore?

Answer: George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, and Theodore Roosevelt. This grand presidential tourist attraction in the Black Hills of South Dakota was the brainchild of historian Jonah LeRoy "Doane" Robinson. Sculptor Gutzon Borglum chose to carve the heads of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, and Roosevelt because he wanted to draw visitors from across the nation. It took from October 1927 to October 1941 to turn the mountain into a monumental work of art.

Project 4031 is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, based in Fort Worth, that offers no-cost services to terminally ill children and adults to strengthen their end of life stories. We provide assistance by helping struggling families meet basic needs through financial support, fulfilling last dreams, and providing medical equipment to international outreach projects. Our goal is to provide a better quality of life obligation of caring for a terminally ill loved one and maintain their regular monthly living expenses simultaneously. Through Funding for Families, we provide financial assistance by helping pay for rent/mortgage, utility bills, groceries, healthcare items, and more for terminally ill patients and their families in desperate situations struggling to make ends meet.

Often people pass away with regrets; they didn't get to see someone or someplace one last time. Through Fulfilling Dreams, we fulfill last dreams which allow patients to leave this world with joy and peace. Unique to Project 4031, there is no age limit on making dreams come true and second dreams can be granted as we understand circumstances often change at the end of life.

While there are many needs in the United States, Project 4031 also serves international hospice programs in need of equipment and supplies. Through Fueling International Outreach, gently used medical equipment and supplies are donated and distributed to these international organizations. Project 4031 is currently working with a physician in Belize, in which over half the population is impoverished and does not have access to adequate healthcare resources. If you are interested in supporting our mission and wish to share your time, talent, or treasure with us, please visit project4031.org.

An Historical Moment in Time

Camp Bowie

Named for Alamo defender James Bowie (1795-1836), who said he would rather die in these ditches (defending the Alamo) than give it up to the enemy, Camp Bowie was a World War I training camp founded some hundred years ago in the area now known as Arlington Heights in west Fort Worth. Serving as headquarters for the 36th Division of the United States Army from 1917-1919, it was established to train the Texas and Oklahoma National Guard after the U.S. entered the World War. The first troops to arrive slept in deep Johnson grass that covered the then undeveloped suburb. By Nov. 1917, the 36th had 25,000 men at Camp Bowie and on July 8, 1918, they were shipped to France, to form a reserve for the French Armies. Soon, they entered into the thick of battle at a pivotal time in the war. After nightfall, on October 6th, the 36th occupied a segment of the fighting front. Two days later, the unit from Camp Bowie captured St. Etienne-A-Arnes, then fought in the Meuse-Argonne operation that shattered the German Army and assured victory to the Allies; a pivotal victory towards bringing Armistice on November 11, 1918. The 36th, also known as the Panther Division due to Fort Worth being the Panther City, stayed to help stabilize the region and did not have all its men on U.S. soil again until June 11, 1919. After demobilization, Camp Bowie reverted to civilian use. When the Texas National Guard entered World War II, its new camp at Brownwood was also named Bowie. To give an idea of the size of the camp, it extended from White Settlement Road in the north to Granbury Road in the south; from University Drive on the east to Lake Como on the west.

On August 13th, NorthGate, TxDOT and the City of Grapevine broke ground on the new I-635/SH 121 interchange project. The $370 million project is the next big piece of the DFW Connector and will reconstruct and increase connectivity between I-635, SH 121, SH 26 and FM 2499. At 3 miles long, the project will also widen direct connectors and increase capacity along Bass Pro Drive. For more information, please visit our website at www.dfwconnector.com.

SH 26 construction is progressing with work starting from near Pleasant Run to John McCain Road which includes drainage installation on the east side of SH 26. Activity south of Centerpark Drive consists of work on the Little Bear Creek Bridge and drainage installation to be followed by pavement construction of the new southbound travel lanes. Mill Valley Road at SH 26 has been reconstructed and is now open.

The $38.2 million project in Colleyville from John McCain Road to Brown Trail will improve mobility and safety, and consists of the widening of SH 26 from four lanes with a continuous left turn lane to six lanes with raised curb medians with left turn bays, continuous sidewalks and improved signals. The project is estimated for completion in 2019.

Roadway reconstruction on the north end of the FM 1938 project continues with the rebuilding of drainage in that area to be followed by pavement construction. Construction of a screen wall for the Myers Meadow subdivision located on the east side of FM 1938 near Johnson Road has begun with crews drilling shafts for columns. The current speed limit of 30 mph throughout the project limits will remain in effect until the project has been completed due to safety.

The 1.6-mile project widens the existing two-lane roadway to a four-lane roadway with curbed medians including dual left turn bays at the intersection of FM 1938 and FM 1709 which has improved traffic flow through the intersection. The project is estimated for substantial completion by the end of 2018.
